CONSTRUCTION: The Studio stand offers the benefits of the Opera stand without the overheads associated with the need for integral illumination. Haloclip light can be attached though. The same high quality friction joint as used in the Opera stand keeps the tray at whatever angle it is set – there is no need to fiddle with a knob. It is great for the staff. Its low weight and nestable design enable large numbers of music stands to be added or removed from the stage at speed and without the need for storage carts. And its slender polished metal perfectly complements the musical instruments which play at it. Available in black epoxy coating or chrome. Studio stands nest for compact storage. All steel construction. All joints welded.
