

IDYLIC SPACES WHERE MUSICIANS CAN PRACTISE, PERFECT AND PRODUCE

Providing expert solutions for musicians, music studios, performing arts venues and education establishments, Amadeus Acoustic Solutions in Battle has over 15 years' experience and acoustic knowhow. We find out how they provide expertise and tailored solutions, designed to meet your requirements

Every musician needs an inspiring space to hone their skills. Whether they're just starting out, developing their talent or playing professionally, a unique, soundproofed space allows a musician to put their heart and soul into what they love.

Amadeus Acoustic Solutions has been providing modular music spaces to musicians, music producers, music colleges and conservatoires for over 15 years. For the musician at home, Amadeus has a range of options that accommodate a variety of budgets.

Amadeus' Italian-designed, British-installed BOXY rooms provide unrivalled sound reduction and are suitable for all musicians and every genre, be it percussion, woodwind, string or state-of-the-art editing and production. The rooms' modular nature allows Amadeus to design the space to your requirements and, should you wish to move house, the entire room can be dismantled, moved and reinstalled in your new property.

Should you wish for something a little larger, fancy a rumpus room for the entire family, or perhaps dream of your very own music haven (and you have some spare space outdoors), Amadeus can also design and install your very own sound-insulated garden studio.

So, why choose Amadeus? The company's success lies in its acoustic expertise. The Amadeus team knows that exceptional insulation and quality are rarely, if ever, achieved retrospectively, so they plan the acoustics early in the design phase and ensure they are an intrinsic part of the room development and installation.

By creating a space driven by their client's acoustic requirements, Amadeus delivers a professionally installed, inspirational environment where the musician can play to their heart's content.
